Citizens Invited To Flood Insurance Meeting

The Federal Insurance Administration has scheduled two meetings in Mississippi to discuss the important flood insurance program with the local citizens.

The meetings will be held in Jackson and Gulfport. The Gulfport meeting is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. on May 11 in the Mississippi Power Company Auditorium, West Beach, Gulfport.

The full-day program will provide citizens with an explanation of the overall flood insurance program; an identification of the flood hazard areas along the Gulf Coast; information on flood plain management and a discussion on land use and control standards.

The Federal Insurance Administrator, George Bernstein, noted that numerous individuals in Mississippi have expressed interest in meetings of this nature, particularly in light of the forthcoming hurricane and flooding seasons.

"The meeting on May 11," stated Administrator Bernstein, "is designed to provide every citizen on the Mississippi Gulf Coast with direct and concise information on the flood insurance program. The Insurance Administration is pleased to provide this service for the citizens of the Gulf Coast."

Teenage Curfew

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Bill Carbonette has issued a warning to all city youths and their parents that the city's curfew law will be strictly enforced.

The ordinance states that it shall be unlawful for any minor under the age of 18 to be on the streets of the city or any public place after 11 p. m. and before 6 a. m. unless accompanied by a parent, guardian or some person over 21 years of age.

It is also unlawful for parents or guardians of minors to allow them out in public places during the above hours, making parents subject to appropriate legal action according to the discretion of the Juvenile Court.

The curfew applies every night of the week, except for special events such as school dances or ball games, in which case the curfew is effective 30 minutes following the close of the event.

BAY ST. LOUIS police lined up Saturday at the Bully Zengarling Firing Range for the first of regularly scheduled firearms training sessions, instigated by Chief Bill Carbonette in cooperation with the city commission council. Edward Jennings, far right, a member of the National Rifle Association, will instruct the course which will run on a continuing basis for the next year, Carbonette said.

Phone Company Plans Expansion In Area

South Central Bell and the Mississippi Public Service Commission announced today a $68,000 expansion of telephone facilities for the northern rural portion of Hancock County served from the firm's Bay St. Louis exchange.

Work is expected to start during June and is scheduled to be completed during October 1972.

According to Public Service Commissioner John Dale, the project area is generally known as Kiln. "Residents of this area are employed in Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, the Mississippi Test Facility and other nearby towns," Commissioner Dale said, "and increasing economic activity is resulting in additional growth throughout the area."

F. M. Kyle, Jr., South Central Bell district manager in Gulfport, said: "We plan to place 50,000 feet of aerial and buried cables to provide service for the 49 telephone lines studies indicate we can expect to gain in less than a year in the Kiln community. We presently have adequate facilities from our central office along Highway 603. From this point, we will place additional cables, both east and west, along the Kiln-De Lisle Road."

This expansion program is part of the record $80 million scheduled to be spent by Bell throughout Mississippi during 1972 to expand and improve telephone service.

TWO RE-APPOINTED Wilson Wehre and Roger Davis have been re-appointed to the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission. The action was taken Monday at the regular meeting of the Bay St. Louis Commission Council.

City Requests Emergency Plan Formation By C.D.

Bay St. Louis city officials have sent a request to the Mississippi Civil Defense Council asking that an

LIFE MEMBER

Charles A. Bean, a veteran of World War I, won his lifetime membership into V.F.W. Post 6285 at a fund raising dance given by the Kiln V.F.W.

The dance was held at the Jordan River Shores recreation hall. First District Commander, Michael Ladner, made the presentation to Bean.

"Operational Assistance Program" be conducted in the city.

This program, under the direction of the State Civil Defense provides a complete plan of action for improving local government capability to respond to disaster situations of all types.

According to Bay Civil Defense director J. R. Lavole, this study will be made without cost to the city and will be an "invaluable reference for many years."

Bay St. Louis Group Moves To De-Annex

A group of Bay St. Louis citizens has approached Commissioner William Frisbie with plans for de-annexation from the city. It was announced at Monday's meeting of the city council.

Frisbie told Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux that nothing had been done up to that point but he (Frisbie) expects a petition to be filed in the near future.

In discussing the possibility of de-annexation, the three members of the council agreed to work with the group and to try to reach an agreeable settlement. "I would like to see new corporate limits set and work toward providing services to a smaller area," Frisbie pointed out.

The annexed area became a part of the city of Bay St. Louis on April 20, 1967 with the stipulation that "within a period not to exceed five years, or earlier, the city will 'when economically feasible, provide the following improvements to the city of Bay St. Louis: installation of gas, water and sewer lines and street lights.' Frisbie admitted at Monday's meeting that the city had not provided all of the services and would not be in a position to do so in the next five years. However, he pointed out that parts of annexed area are provided with garbage collection, fire protection and street lights. "The people, if they decide to de-annex, will still have to pay school taxes, although it won't be as much," Frisbie concluded.

Paul Vegas, a member of the de-annexation group, was contacted early Wednesday morning for information concerning possible action. Vegas revealed that those pressing for removal from the city were mostly businessmen. "All of our plans up to now have been mostly informal but we will soon hire a lawyer and file a petition for de-annexation," Vegas revealed. When asked the reasons behind the move, Vegas answered, "We have garbage collection but sewerage and water is available in only a small portion of the annexed area. In addition our taxes are 40 percent higher." Vegas also emphasized that he hopes the situation can be worked out in a friendly manner without too many problems on either side.

Board Considers Payment For Rescue Work

The Hancock County board of supervisors is considering a means by which persons performing water rescue work with privately owned boats may be reimbursed for their efforts and expenses.

Herbert Peterson of Clermont Harbor told supervisors at a meeting Monday that he had been called upon frequently in the past year to rescue stranded fishermen and boats in the Bayou Caddy area.

Will Attend Conference

Bay St. Louis Civil Defense director J. R. Lavole will attend the Hurricane Preparedness Conference in Miami, Fla., from May 9-11. The invitation was extended to Lavole from the Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP). The National Hurricane Center of the Department of Commerce and OEP are sponsoring the conference.

According to Lavole, the conference will provide the framework for a long-range program to aid local, State and Federal officials rescue work, and although he is more than willing to perform this service at any time, he can no longer continue to defray the expenses.

County Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd verified Peterson's account by saying that emergency rescue calls are received every week, and especially on weekends and that in his opinion Peterson is one of the most knowledgeable people in the county. Peterson said he uses his power boat which he docks in Bayou Caddy for Kidd stated that the only authorized water rescue agency available is the Coast Guard station in Gulfport, too far away to be of assistance in the county. The board agreed to consider the matter and attempt to work out some equitable arrangement.

Bids were opened for the purchase of a dump truck for beat five. Turan-Late Chevrolet was the only bidder, submitting prices for two trucks. The 1972 Chevrolet truck, the agency advised, does not exactly conform to advertised specifications, therefore, two prices for similar trucks were offered. A 338 cubic inch horsepower truck would cost $8,547.52, and an alternate bid of $5,519.47 was listed for a 350 cubic inch horsepower truck.

The board decision was to table action on the purchase pending inspection by beat five supervisor James Travirca. Travirca was given an option to purchase one or both of the trucks as he saw fit.

In a related action, bids were opened for the purchase of an assessor and collector's school. Southern Airfrigate Co. of Bay St. Louis was high bidder with a price of $497 for a 26,500 btu unit, and an alternate bid of $445 for a 30,000 btu unit.

Wilcox Electric, Inc. in Waveland was low bidder at a price of $475 for a 27,500 btu unit. On a motion by Travirca, the board accepted Wilcox's bid.

The April claims docket was reviewed and with the exception of several claims disallowed by supervisors, was accepted.

April 15, 2 p. m. was set as the date to open bids for the operation of the Bayou Caddy docking and fishing facility.

Firemen Invited To Four-Day Training School

The State Firefighters School has scheduled a four-day training school for firemen.

All Coast fire departments have been invited and registration will be held May 7 beginning at 6:30 p. m. at the Bay St. Louis Blue Station on Old Spanish Trail.

Subjects to be included in the school will be fire fighting tactics, hose layout practices and suppression of l. p. gas fires. The last night of the course will include a "Christmas Tree" demonstration where firemen will fight an actual lique petroleum fire. The public is invited to the demonstration which will take place behind Bay Senior High School.

Hancock General Prepares For Hospital Week

The administrators and staff of Hancock General Hospital have planned an extensive and illuminating schedule of activities for visitors to the hospital's Open House Sunday afternoon, in observance of National Hospital Week.

Beginning at 2 p. m., guided tours of the hospital's facilities will be conducted by members of the Ladies Auxiliary. Paintings by local artists will be on exhibit in the corridors and as many departments as possible will be open for inspection. The hospital's most up-to-date medical equipment will be on display with staff members on hand to explain their use and contribution to patient care.

Some of the equipment to be seen will include a defibrillator, cardiac-rhonor and pacemaker - instruments used in caring for heart patients. A doll, nicknamed Arrhythmia Annie, will also be shown. Far from being a toy, Annie is used to indicate abnormal heart patterns.

A particularly interesting piece of equipment used in the cardiac field will be "modeled" by three staff members as they greet visitors. Each staffer will wear a telemetry monitor, a small button-like attachment which records his heart beat on a monitor screen nearby. The machine can record three heart patterns simultaneously, enabling a nurse to monitor three cardiac patients at all times from the nursing station.

A special arrangement will open the operating room to visitors, although to avoid contamination of the sterile room no one may enter. A gownned nurse will explain operating room equipment to operators at the door, and surgical instruments will be displayed and labeled on tables.

Visitors will see the recently acquired operating table which is designed to place the patient in any position required without moving him, as well as providing a special X-ray surface so the patient can be X-rayed in the operating room before or during surgery.

Hancock General has also acquired a Stryker Frame, not often found in small hospitals. The Stryker was first invented during World War II for men seriously burned or injured in combat, and is designed to turn the whole bed with the patient secured within, a full 360 degrees, without touching the patient.

Other departments to be open for visitors are the laboratory, x-ray and dietary rooms, with personnel on hand to illustrate their various functions.

At 4 p. m., visitors will be treated to an entertaining program of music by the seminary group, Nous Quatre et Un, as well as a singing trio composed of Mrs. Janelle McLean, a staff R.N., her son and a young friend.

Also during the program, prizes will be awarded to winners of the poster contest underway in area elementary schools. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Other Hospital Week events scheduled will include Doctors' Day, May 8; Administrators' Day, May 9; Employees' Day, May 10; Board Day, May 11; Nurses' Day, May 12 (Florence Nightingale's birthday); Volunteers' Day, May 13, honoring the Auxiliary and Candy Strippers.

A significant notation at the end of the above schedule stated "EVERY day is patients' day!"

Girl Scouts Participate In Cleanup

Brownies And Scouts Tackle....

The Yard At St. Augustine's....

A Ditch.....

Girl Scouts in Hancock County recently participated in a nationwide project of beautification and cleanup. The project is designed to focus attention on the litter problem and the benefits of recycling for environmental improvement. The Girl Scouts of America were invited to join this year as a third co-sponsor with Keep America Beautiful, Inc. and the Boy Scouts of America. This date also coincides with Clean Up America Day declared by Congress.

Girl Scouting shares a traditional concern for the protection and conservation of the environment and has expressed this concern in many of its publications. The handbooks, for example, carry basic information of conservation and natural science.

Local girl scouts began their part in this national beautification project by seeking various places that needed attention. Their activities include picking up litter, spading flower beds, setting out new plants, and working in senior citizens' yards.

As a result of the girls' interest in beautification one troop has planned to continue the project by maintaining throughout the year the area they worked in.

The girls hope that by their involvement in this project they will encourage others to really think and begin to do something about the environment.

Bay-Waveland Cruising Club held its annual island cruise April 29 and 30 to Cat Island. Sailing from Bay-Waveland Yacht Club at 10 a.m. Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul White on the Espinosa; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Geary on the Knott; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reeves, Alana and Richard Reeves on the Ceely; Mr. and Mrs. John Dupaquier on the Coquille; Mr. and Mrs. Ordway Kastler on the Kitiwake; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman and Mrs. Ray Stiefel on the Gulf Coaster.

The group anchored off the night in Smugglers' Cove where they were joined by Cdr. and Mrs. William Merlin and Cdr. and Mrs. William King who sailed from Pass Christian Yacht Club on the South Coaster.

After a barbecue the evening was spent around a bonfire on the moonlit beach, singing to the accompaniment of John Dupaquier's band.

The majority of boats sailed for home following breakfast Sunday morning. The Gulf Coaster and South Coaster extended their cruise and headed for the open Gulf to sail outside South-Spit and the eastern shore, round North Point, rendezvous for lunch in Little Bend and explore the newly developed interior of the island.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

Things happen to people—happy things, tragic things. Thomas Watson was married to Miss Sarah Ann Davis in Natchez 135 years ago, and almost at the same time John Webb, aged 19, died near Woodville. How long did the happiness of the Watsons last, and how long before the grief of John's parents was assuaged? And who remembers them at all today?

Somewhat later, 109 years ago to be exact, the siege of Vicksburg by General Grant's bluecoats began. For many months thereafter there was little rejoicing by the people of Mississippi, and much grief and suffering, but events of that time are still remembered, some vividly.

Military activity in Mississippi began in late '61 with the occupation of Ship Island and the Gulf Coast as far east as Mobile, soon shifted to the northern part of the State and to operations along the big river. Corinth was under siege during the entire month of May, 1862, and there was brisk fighting around Farmington, Iuka and Booneville, while another Union force was attacking the river towns and pushing northeastward towards Jackson.

All this was only the beginning of Mississippi's ordeal. Because she was Number Two in the list of seceding States, and due to the great importance of controlling the big river, Union leaders took particular pleasure in bearing down hard on the people and their towns.

Many of the villages around Corinth—including Senatobia, near the spot where DeSoto had first seen the Mississippi River, were fought over, sacked and burned, and the beautiful old plantation homes in the countryside were looted and ruined. Along the river, fighting was steady and vicious. Natchez fell on May 12, and Grand Gulf was shelled by Union gunboats repeatedly during May and June 1862.

So much for the military operations in the State 110 years ago this month. Now, what of the people of this region during that period? They still had exactly three more years of hardship and bitterness to endure before General Richard Taylor surrendered the Confederate forces in the State on May 4, 1865.

SALVATION - A CONTINUING EXPERIENCE

Salvation is not only a conversion experience but it is a continuing experience, as we find in Ezekiel 36:27. God said, "I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them."

When a person becomes a child of God, he has a Father-son relationship with God. God deals with him as a loving father. He informs us that He will chastise His children because He loves us and He is going to help us to stay in line and live the right life.

A person who says, "I am a Christian," and lives like the Devil and God is not dealing with that individual, is not truly a Christian.

Hebrews 12:8 tells us, "But if ye be without chastisement," whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards and not sons." God punishes those whom He loves and He does it in the most loving, wonderful way. God is not standing over us with a club, but He is looking after us because He is concerned. You punish your children because you love them, and because you want them to do what is right. No one likes a brat. The same is true of a spiritual brat. He is not going to be respected in the world. God is going to do His best to see that we live a Christian example before others. He knows that we will not be happy if we are not in His will.

If a person has truly become a Christian though, you must keep in mind that he will be concerned about doing God's will.

Jesus said, "If you love me, keep my commandments." This is a command in itself, and if we love Him, we will do our best to keep His commandments.

I John 2:4 says, "He that saith, I know Him, and keepeth not His commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him."

I am so discontent and ill at ease when I am not keeping God's commandments that I must get right with God. When a person gets out of fellowship with God, he loses his peace that "passeth understanding." He will immediately begin to seek to have that fellowship restored. So, salvation is continuing. It is not something that has happened. And we don't get saved and sit around waiting to die. When we are saved, that's when we are ready to live and we seek to live and to do the will of God. If you continue in sin and in serving Satan, then there is something missing from your life. Most likely it is Jesus. STRAIGHT AHEAD!!!!

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK

Money's tight. You feel pretty lucky if you can stretch your paycheck enough to meet all the everyday expenses. It's harder than ever to save a buck. And how are you going to take care of the future, when you've got enough trouble just taking care of the present?

But, you can manage to save—by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's a sure way to get started on a nest egg that you can depend on in the future.

The amount you designate will be automatically set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, before you get your check, and before you can spend it.

So, join the Payroll Savings Plan and start on your "secret stash" today. And then just relax and don't worry about tomorrow. You'll manage.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6 1/2% interest when held in maturity for 12 months. (4 1/2% the first year). Bonds are redeemable at face, dollar, or fractional values. Interest is paid quarterly at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

A View ....

From The Other Side

What is a hospital? It's a place you don't even think about unless you have to go there. When you do think about it, or have to go to one, it's like going to jail, or paying taxes—tantamount doom.

Entering as a patient, one doesn't think "I'm glad it's here and available." One is thinking negatively, and often frightened. A nurse's cheerfulness only makes you feel worse by comparison - you're sick, she's not! The lab technician draws off your last drop of blood, with a smile (why does he need your last drop of blood?). A nurse's aid brings you a tray of food that looks good, but tastes like boiled blotters. She can smile, she doesn't have to eat it. Why can't they cook like you cook at home? (What you cook at home probably had a lot to do with why you're in the hospital) So you have someone sneak something in, and blame your relapse on the doctor.

An LPN brings you a bunch of funny looking pills and stands there, always smiling, until you take them. The fact that she won't tell you what they are proves that she has probably made a mistake and given you the wrong pills, or is trying to poison you. And you don't feel a bit guilty about calling the nurses' station four times within the hour to raise your bed, and lower your bed, and bring fresh water, and fix your pillow, because they're all just standing around there idle anyway.

Did you ever think about what it's like on the other side of the bed? Some days they get up feeling worse than you do, but they still go to work. A nurse's aid comes in to change your clothes, but she can't take a pain pill, and she has no function clearly and sharply.

An LPN or a nurse's aid can't think about her aching feet or a blinding sinus headache because if she didn't come in, the staff would be short-handed and someone else would have to carry her load. And the maid who scrubs and cleans your room and picks up after you each day isn't going to tell you how badly she feels some days because she, too, is trying to make you feel better.

The administrator won't say a word about having to come back to the hospital when they brought you in at 2 a. m., because as the only staff pharmacist he was the only one with access to the narcotics or restricted medicines that the doctor ordered for you.

He won't even say anything a year after you left the hospital, well and healthy again, although you still haven't paid your bill. He can't explain to you that when enough of you don't pay your bills, he can't pay the hospital's bills. Hospitals cannot run on credit.

Statistically, a hospital has to maintain an average patient load of 65 percent to break even on operating expenses. Hancock General has been averaging 35 percent. It doesn't take a mathematical genius to understand what kind of problems that can lead to.

Still, regardless of what kind of patient you have been, the next time you go back, you'll receive the same courteous and professional treatment you did before.

What is a hospital? It's a place with a heart. If you don't believe it, go to Hancock General's Open House Sunday and find out for yourself.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome. They should be on pertinent topics, in good taste and limited to 300 words. The Sea Coast Echo requires also that each letter be properly signed by the writer before it will be considered for publication. No letters unsigned or containing pseudonyms will be published.

Dear Editor:

The Kiln VFW Post 6285 went on record to write a letter to the editor of the Sea Coast Echo stating its position and its attitude toward the board of supervisors of Hancock County Mississippi in which they dilly dallied with the handling of the appointing of a service officer for the county.

Dolph Keller, president of the board of supervisors made a statement to the effect that there would be either one or five service officers. Jerry Lader, best one supervisor, made the statement that he would go along with the majority of the veterans. We in the Kiln post membership do not object to Major Curvey, who was named Service Officer, nor do we object to Troy Smith being named as assistant. What we would like to know, as members of VFW Post 6285, why should two posts get service officers named from their post, and three posts did not?

We in turn would like to know exactly who is running the board of supervisors? If they can't uphold their word and go opposite to what they say, we want it known that we have nothing against Major Curvey nor Troy Smith for being selected. We glory in the stand that supervisor Oscar Peterson of beat three took when he said that he would not go along with the board unless the post in his beat got a paid service officer as well. We of the Kiln VFW Post 6285 want to go on record that in the past we have always taken care of our members and will continue to do so in the future. We also hope that we never have to ask the present board of supervisors for any aid whatsoever in the next three years to come.

POLICE REPORTS

Bay St. Louis police answered 46 calls in the week of April 26 through May 1.

Mrs. Joseph Battaglia of 214 Booker St. reported the theft of a 20-inch girl's bicycle from her residence. The bike was described as red and white with white flower decals, and is a Miss America model. Police Chief Bill Carbonette is investigating the theft.

On the same day, Bay police received a call concerning alleged drag racing with automobiles in the streets of the city's annexed area. Ptn. Alvin Pavre and Harris Boudreaux investigated the report. According to Chief Carbonette, extra patrols have been assigned to that area at unspecified times to apprehend offenders. Drag racing within the city limits is against city law. Carbonette stated, and violators will be fully prosecuted.

Friday Ptn. Emmitt Ellis

investigated a reported theft of a shrimp net from the Felicity St. residence of Mrs. Bruce Bourgeois.

Fred Schultz told police Saturday that his motorcycle was stolen from near his apartment at the Bay Royale Apts., on Highway 90. Ptn. Larry Ladner and Wilbur Dorsey are investigating the theft.

Three juveniles were apprehended by Auxiliary Policeman Albert Blehl III shortly after midnight Sunday and were booked on a charge of breaking curfew. The three youths were turned over to juvenile authorities, and are awaiting court action.

Persons who have had bicycles stolen may check with Bay police as there are a number of unclaimed bicycles being held at the station. Carbonette said.

Waveland police arrested two youths Sunday night on complaint of public drunkenness and improper behavior. David J. Carver, 19, of Waveland and a 16-year-old companion were apprehended by Waveland patrolmen Ronnie Ferrell, Robert Tartavouille and Bobby Hughes about 9 p. m. and brought to the county jail. Carver was charged with driving while intoxicated and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The juvenile was booked with public drunkenness and remanded to juvenile authorities pending youth court action.

A Waveland woman was arrested Thursday night in connection with the hit and run accident April 28 in which seven-year-old Stephen Kidd was injured. Mrs. Laura Hunter was arrested about 7 p. m. the day after the accident by constable Sam Pernice, deputy sheriff James Ladner and Waveland policeman Donald McIntyre after an inspection of her 1967 Chevrolet Impala revealed evidence of the accident. Mrs. Hunter was booked at the county jail on charges of leaving the scene of an accident.

an accident and inflicting injury. She was released on $1,000 bond. A hearing in City Court is scheduled May 11.

SHERIFF'S REPORTS

A New Orleans man was arrested by sheriff's deputies Thursday after a 115-miles-per-hour chase on old Highway 90 as the man attempted to escape the pursuing police car.

Deputy sheriffs Lathan Garriga and Fairley Necaise were on the highway Thursday about 3 p. m. just East of the truck scales interrogating two runaway juveniles, who told them a third companion had left in a truck with a man who had offered them money. As they were talking the truck returned, but the driver sped away when he saw the deputies.

The chase continued six miles before the truck could be overtaken and the driver, 29-year-old Jamie C. Morecap, arrested.

The three juvenile boys, two brothers 11 and 12, and a 15-year-old friend told authorities they had run away from their Gretna, La. homes Sunday, traveling on stolen bicycles. They said they had not slept since Sunday and had not eaten since Tuesday when they ran out of money.

Morecap had approached them on the highway near the scales and offered them five dollars to help him "fill some bottles," the boys said. Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said Morecap had apparently been drinking.

Morecap was taken to the county jail where he was later released on bond. The three juveniles were fed and held in the County Youth Center until their parents arrived the next day.

Post-6285 Elects Officers

Harold Cospelich was named commander of the Kiln Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6285 at a recent meeting of the organization.

The slate of officers elected to serve for the coming year is as follows: Wallace Haas, senior vice-commander; Hugo V. Haas, junior vice-commander; Louis Maloney, quartermaster; Thomas Cain, surgeon; Leroy Lee, judge advocate; Donald Maulfray, chaplain; Gerald Long, three-year trustee; Arthur Necaise, two-year trustee; Michael Ladner, one-year trustee; Whitney Carvin, public relations officer and adjutant; J. W. Olsen, service officer.

Election nominations and proceedings were conducted by the election committee, composed of Michael Ladner, J. W. Olsen, Hugo Haas and O. J. Ladner.

Outgoing Commander Gerald Long opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag, followed by a prayer led by Chaplain Maulfray.

In other business, the post officially went on record to write a letter to the editor of the Sea Coast Echo protesting the method of appointment of a county service officer and assistant by the board of supervisors.

Two stolen vehicles were recovered last week by sheriff's deputies. A 1967 green Ford pickup truck, stolen April 3, from Rusty Smith's Motors was recovered May 1 by deputies Garriga and Necaise. Jay Marsh, a Clermont Harbor resident, notified authorities that the truck had been seen abandoned and nearly stripped in that community. The truck was returned to the car lot.

A 1968 Chevrolet sedan, yellow and black, stolen April 17 from Lagrange, Ga., was recovered from Bill's Shell Oil Station on Highway 90 and Main St. A station employee said a man had brought the car in to be serviced April 27, but had never returned for it, so he called the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said Louisiana police were notified, and the car thief later arrested in New Orleans and returned to Georgia.

Saturday afternoon Deputy Garriga arrested a man and his wife as they were fighting in front of the Phillips 66 Station on Highway 90. Garriga said the couple, Jeffrey E. Schultz, 32, and Inez V. Schultz, 43, were registered in a motel behind the service station. They had apparently been drinking heavily, Garriga said, and began to fight as they left the motel. Both were taken to the county jail and booked for public drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

WWI Veterans Install Officers

At a meeting last Wednesday, Hancock County Barracks No. 2537 installed their officers for the 1972-73 term. The following were inducted into office: Barracks Commander E. J. Arceneaux; Sr. Vice Commander J. Hugh Miller, Jr.; Vice Commander Arthur T. Christy; Judge Advocate Henry Capdepon Sr.; Chaplain Harrington G. Wingo; Quartermaster and Adjutant Harold R. Powell; Sgt. at Arms Louis M. Moreau; and Trustee Henry Capdepon Sr.

Installing officer was Newton M. Hewes, Past Department and Past Regional Commander and present Acting District Commander. Delegates named to the Department Convention to be held in Louisville, Ky. June 2-3 were: Charles E. Harvey, Albert Mercier and J. Hugh Miller. Alternates named were Harrington G. Wingo, Henry Capdepon Sr. and Anthony J. Piazza.

Commander Arceneaux is a representative to the Department Convention by virtue of his office as is Quartermaster Powell who is also the Department Quartermaster. The meeting was followed by a social hour with refreshments served by the Ladies Auxiliary Unit. Meetings of the Barracks are held at 5 p. m. the fourth Wednesday of each month at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis.

Stanislaus Wins In District Tennis Matches

Three St. Stanislaus students won both the singles and doubles championships in the District 8 match held at Keesler Air Force base last Friday. Ed Melancon won the singles championship, while Jim Piland and Jim Amenta took the doubles.

Ed Melancon took his first match from Billy Matkin of Pass Christian, 6-1, 6-3 and then defeated the No. 4 seeded player, David Lane of Pascagoula, 9-7, 3-6 and 6-3. In the finals Ed beat the No. 3 seeded Frank Heath of Biloxi 7-5, 6-3.

Jim Piland and Jim Amenta began their quest of the championship by defeating the No. 6 seeded team from Biloxi, 6-2, 4-6 and 6-2. After losing the first set to the No. 2 seeded team from Long Beach, Amenta and Piland rallied to take the match, 5-7, 6-2 and 6-3. In the finals they beat the No. 1 seeded team from Gulfport East by the amazing score of 6-2, 6-1.

Judo Means 'The Gentle Way'

AARGH

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

"Judo is the most effective use of both physical and spiritual strength. By training you in attacks and defenses it refines your body and your soul and helps you make the spiritual essence of judo part of your very being. In this way you are able to perfect yourself and contribute something of value to the world. This is the final goal of judo discipline."

Jigoro Kano,
founder of Kodokan Judo

A demonstration of the ancient Japanese art of Judo will be presented Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. at the St. Augustine Seminary gymnasium.

Tom Tebbe, a second-degree Brown Belt, will conduct the demonstration which is open to the public. Students of Tebbe's Bay St. Louis Kodokan (judo school) will participate in the program showing the intricate methods required for the practice of the sport.

JUDO HISTORY

In the early 12th century in Japan, when the feudal lords reigned, the only weapons were hands (jijutsu), knives, clubs, staves, swords and bows and arrows. Use of these weapons was taught and practiced often with deadly skill. Teachers held official positions and were highly regarded.

Toward the end of the Tokugawa era (1676-1876) a great change occurred in the types of weapons used as well as the methods of fighting. The old martial arts fell into disuse and interest diminished proportionately. The jujitsu masters lost their exalted positions and were forced to seek employment elsewhere.

Jigoro Kano, a student of many of the old masters, realizing that the martial arts were disappearing set out to revive and systemize a course of instruction in them. In June 1882, Kano established the first Kodokan in Tokyo.

JUDO TODAY

As a sport judo is not well known in the Western world. The mention of the word to most people brings to mind death-dealing blows to the back of the neck or 100-pound weaklings throwing Goliaths over their shoulders with the flick of a wrist. Both impressions are incorrect. Judo is neither magic nor trickery although properly applied, it is sometimes the means by which the weak can defeat the strong.

Actually, judo as taught in all reputable Kodokans, is an honorable and well-disciplined sport based on ancient Japanese methods of barehand fighting. It is a kind of wrestling with clothes on, requiring a special uniform (judogi) for practice.

Judo may be practiced by anyone in reasonably good health, at any age and by both sexes. In Tebbe's class there are both male and female students ranging in age from little boys of seven to middle-age men and women.

The degree of proficiency attained by the individual depends a good deal on his attitude as judo requires as much discipline of the mind as it does of the body. Although taught today as a sport, judo demands rigorous and carefully controlled physical conditioning.

The atmosphere in the kodokan is serious. The first thing a student is taught is respect for the teacher and that his conduct in the kodokan must at all times be above reproach. Often a difficult lesson for the very young boy who thinks of it as a game, or for the average teenager who is looking for a quick way to clobber an opponent in a street fight.

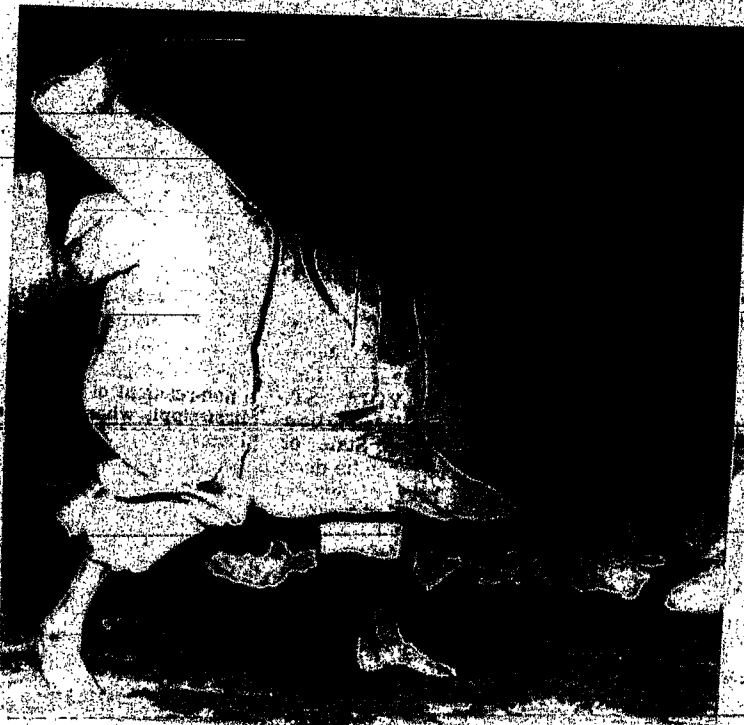

Judo literally translated means "the gentle way", surprising considering its conception. Regarded strictly as a sport in private kodokans, judo and karate are taught, however, as a means of self-defense in most police academies, military training camps and the FBI academy in Washington.

A student's progress toward the coveted black belt is indicated by the color of the belt worn at his waist. Several months of training are required to perform Saturday's feat. One who has achieved yellow belt status wears a purple belt and his assistant is a green belt.

Saturday's demonstration will be held in St. Rosenthal Gym on Seminary Drive, and will cost 50 cents per person for admission.

Brother Prepares For Final Vows

Divine Word Missionaries do not take their promise of a life of total dedication lightly; before making their final vow of serving God for life as a religious missionary brother or priest they take from three to twelve months to prepare themselves for this important step.

Brother Richard Bohr, S.V.D., who has been making temporary vows for the last six years, will make his perpetual promise in July. Since February he has been making a second novitiate at Divine Word Seminary in Bay St. Louis, in preparation for the step; he will then return to his duties in St. Louis, Missouri.

Brother Richard, born in St. Paul, Minnesota on September 25, 1945; entered the Brotherly candidates school in Techny, Illinois in 1959. Following that he professed his first vows on

In addition to this full-time job, Brother Richard helps distribute Holy Communion at the parish Church and to the sick in private homes and hospitals.

Saucier-Moran Exchange Vows

Miss Peggy Jean Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Moran of Lakeshore, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Anthony Saucier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Saucier Sr. of Waveland, on Sunday April 23rd.

The wedding was held at St. John's Catholic Church in Lakeshore. Father Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Parish, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride wore a Renaissance style gown of Chantilly lace over tulle, featuring a fitted bodice styled with a square scalloped neckline and Bishop sleeves. A pink satin ribbon accented the waist of a full flowing skirt and swept behind to form a chapel length train. Her full length veil of illusion fell from a profile headpiece of matching lace.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James Ward, was matron of honor, and the groom's brother, Mr. Douglas Saucier, was the best man. The couple had two other attendants, Miss Angelle Moran of Kenner, La. and Mr. Thomas A. Moran of Lakeshore. Two little flower girls, Miss Tiffany Ward and Miss Karen Hoyt, made up the rest of the bridal party.

The reception was held at Six Acres Restaurant, which had been decorated with pink and white color scheme. The cake table had a lace cloth dotted here and there with pink bows and lilies of the valley in miniature. The cake was a three-tiered wedding cake with sweetheart roses of pale pink topped by three doves with a wedding and engagement ring tied with white satin. On each side of the cake were silver candelabras with white tapers. Baskets of pink and white gladiolus were on either side of the cake table.

Homemakers Win Awards At Flower Show

Clermont Harbor Extension Homemakers Club met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. W. Duke with Mrs. Ruby Bennett and Mrs. Maurice George as hostesses.

Mrs. Vivian Moffett, president, conducted the business session at which time Mrs. Duke noted the Club had won 49 ribbons and sweepstakes award at the flower and vegetable show held last week at the Agriculture Center.

Members were reminded of the annual dress review and the club's golden anniversary May 12.

Mrs. Frank Corcoran conducted a workshop on making Kelly skirts and a demonstration on making butterflies from coat hangers and nylon hose was given by Mrs. A. M. Thomas.

The community development program was discussed by Mrs. Duke who noted the importance of homemakers participating in home, civic and political developments.

It was announced the Mississippi Cook Book can be purchased through the Agriculture Center.

Crocheted hats, bags and capes made by Mrs. Joseph Tague were modeled.

A new member, Mrs. William Merlin, was introduced. There were 15 members and three guests attending.

The group will not meet again until the first Monday in September.

Celebrate Spring with Shortcake

Baskets of red-tipped strawberries have become a bright accent on produce shelves the year around. But real berry connoisseurs are partial to the berry grown in their own area. So the top season for strawberry shortcake is the time of the native harvest. For a tender, unusual biscuit shortcake use corn starch along with flour.

Strawberry Shortcake
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup corn starch
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup milk
1/2 pint heavy cream
Strawberries, sweetened

Sift together flour, corn starch, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in margarine until coarse crumbs form. Mix in milk with fork, just until dough forms. Gently knead on lightly floured surface 15 times. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with floured 2 1/2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven until lightly browned, 15 to 20 minutes. Break biscuits apart while warm, but not hot. Whip the cream. Spoon cream on bottom halves. Top with half of berries. Cover with biscuit tops, more whipped cream and remaining strawberries. Makes 10 servings.

MISSISSIPPI'S BETTY CROCKER Homemaker of Tomorrow for 1972, Amy Hartnett of Bay Senior high school, Bay St. Louis, visits with Sen. John C. Stennis at a reception in the historic Caucus Room of the Old Senate Office Building here. Fifty-one high school senior girls representing each state and the District of Columbia in this year's 18th annual Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow received an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington. Chosen from an original field of more than 650,000 senior girls in over 14,500 of the nation's high schools, each was also awarded a $1,500 college scholarship from General Mills, sponsor of the educational program. Selections of State Homemaker of Tomorrow were based on judging centering on scores in a written knowledge and attitude examination administered throughout the country last December. The Betty Crocker Search relates to virtually all high school curricula. It is planned to do so, according to General Mills, "because the program seeks to stress the breadth and depth of knowledge and the attitudes toward family life needed to fulfill the homemaking role effectively."

A Practical Plan For Shoe Shopping Spree

...with no achin' feet
— In the summer heat

Women automatically shop for dresses, separates, slacks, and swimwear as a first step in accumulating their summer wardrobes. The second phase of planning is a collection of shoes to coordinate with all. Panty-hose, knee-highs and footlets and third, with jewelry, bags, belts, wigs and wiglets winding up at the end of the fashion budget. Basics naturally take priority, but the all-important emphasis on "putting it all together" adds the final touch.

Ladies go all out to compete with nature when summer arrives, flaunting their individual fashion flare and finesse. Compliments are expected and accepted when one knows they're well turned out from head to toe. But the ego can be inflated immeasurably when fashion purchases are economically sound and husband or the family compare your good taste with a well balanced checkbook.

A practical approach in buying a wardrobe means budgeting money in three categories: 50% for clothes — 30% for shoes — 20% for accessories. With proper planning, you won't have to eliminate all the fun and frivolous items.

After selecting your clothes, outline a step-by-step plan for shoes to pamper and pretty the feet. Lay out your new outfits (as well as last summer's favorites) and group them into morning, noon and evening wear. Now, add the shoes needed to go with various groups of outfits. A well-rounded wardrobe should consist of from 4 to 6 pairs, including wearable ones from the past season.

With your itemized list of clothes, broken down by color, cut a sliver of fabric from the seams of dresses, skirts or slacks or better still, take along bolts for good color coordination. Select shoes that can double for various outfits. If you have a flare for blending colors, choose related shades to complement each other. Avoid bright, shocking colors if your outfits are in subdued shades... but when you're buying for a vibrant sports outfit, keep the colors shouting... loud and clear! Unsure of yourself? Stick to basic white, the beige tones, black, red or navy patent.

Kinney Shoes cater to all fashion footwear needs at a price to fit every budget. ## The Payroll Savings Plan is for people who can't save a buck.

Ever notice how your paycheck sort of slips through your fingers before you get around to stashing a little away for the future?

Ever have a dream about a vacation, or a cottage you want, or a college fund you're going to build for your kids?

Those wake-up ten years later just to find out you're no closer to making your dream come true than you were when you first had it? You're not alone.

Everybody has trouble saving a buck these days. And, that's why there's a Payroll Savings Plan. Sign up where you work and an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Before you can get your hands on it. Before you can spend it.

It won't be too long before you have a nice nest egg built up, a bankroll that's really worth something.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan. It's helped a lot of people... just like you.

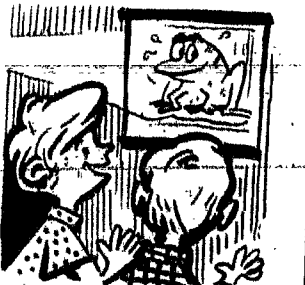

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 1 year, 10 months, 4 1/2% the first year. Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Question: I teach ten year olds. Are my students too young to profit educationally from making films?

Answer: Definitely not. Even younger children will experience a "opening" of their natural curiosity about the world if they are allowed to view it through the critical eye of the motion picture camera. And this is true in the home as well as in class. Start out by asking each child to think up and bring to class ideas for a simple film that acts out a favorite story or explores nature, numbers, pollution or any other subject that seems to capture the interest of the class.

For nature study, do a film on the life cycle of a frog, from egg to tadpole to adult. Film the hatching of a butterfly from its cocoon, or the living things in a nearby pond.

A recent article in the "Bolex Reporter" tells about how students in a New Jersey high school produced effective 30-minute and 60-minute commercials to be shown on local TV, that warn about the dangers of experimenting with drugs. Four issues of this idea-packed magazine can be obtained by sending $2 to Bolex Reporter, 1900 Lower Road, Linden, New Jersey 07036

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Brickbats for Teacher

Billy's grouchy grandfather took such a violent dislike to the boy's homeroom teacher that he wrote a special letter of denunciation to the board of education. "This woman is ignorant, lazy, and totally uninterested in her job," he alleged. "She just sits there and collects wages."

As it happened, Billy's teacher was both capable and energetic. When she found out about the letter, she determined to sue the grandfather for defamation of character.

At the trial, she was unable to produce even a single instance to sustain his charges of ineptitude. The court said she need not put up with such charges that blacken a professional reputation.

Most courts agree, still, not every mistaken statement about a teacher will support a defamation suit. Like other public employees, a teacher must "take" a reasonable amount of criticism from those who are legitimately concerned with the school system.

In another case, a pupil's mother complained to the school board that a certain teacher was "not competent." But this time, even though the mother's complaint was exaggerated, she did have a substantial amount of supporting evidence.

The teacher sued, but the court ruled against her. The judge said that for the good of public education, some leeway must be allowed to its critics.

Nor is it defamation if the charge does not seriously reflect on the teacher's professional qualifications. Take this case:

A school principal, writing a report about a new teacher, described her as being "careless in writing on the blackboard." Was this statement, if untrue, enough basis for a defamation claim by the teacher?

A court ruled that it was not, because it did not really mean she was incompetent in her job. The court said it was perfectly possible for a teacher to be careless at teaching children.

"Pedestrian" on Skates

Roller skating on the sidewalk, six-year-old Teddy was hit by a delivery truck backing out of a driveway. In short order, Teddy's parents aimed a damage suit at the trucking company.

At this trial, they noted that pedestrians on sidewalk had the right of way over motor vehicles. "Maybe so," conceded the company. "But this boy was not really a 'pedestrian' at all. He was a roller skater."

However, the court upheld Teddy's claim. The judge said: "While a pedestrian is ordinarily one who travels on foot, the mere circumstance that he is attached to his feet roller skates, or walks on stilts, or uses crutches, does not, alone, him with any other character than that of a pedestrian."

Local traffic laws often grant special rights to pedestrians over motorists. In most cases, as in this one, courts have given the word "pedestrian" a broad meaning.

But this works both ways. The status of pedestrian may involve duties as well as rights. Thus, a woman climbed down from a trolley car and started jaywalking toward an opposite corner. Struck and injured by a passing taxicab, she later sued the cab company for damages. When the company pointed to an ordinance against jaywalking by pedestrians, the woman replied:

"Until I reached the sidewalk, I was still a passenger, not a pedestrian. Therefore, the ordinance against jaywalking did not apply to me."

However, the court turned down her excuse. The judge said her status changed from passenger to pedestrian at the moment she got off the trolley.

What is your status if you have car trouble on the road and have to use your feet? In one case, a man was run down while walking behind a stalled car to set out warning flares on the highway. When he sued, he was blamed by the other driver for not walking on the left side of the road—like any other pedestrian.

But the court ruled that, at least in these circumstances, he could not fairly be classified as a pedestrian. The court said he was simply a motorist having an emergency.

Athletes Honored At St. Clare Banquet

Junior high and elementary participants in St. Clare School's athletic program were honored last Wednesday night at the school's third annual Athletic Banquet.

On hand to honor the young athletes were faculty, family, and friends. Pete Finney, New Orleans States-Item sportswriter and columnist, was featured speaker of the evening.

Recipient of the coveted Best All-around Warrior award was Reggie Fayard, an eighth-grader, who also received a trophy for Top Scorer on the Warriors' 1971-72 junior high football squad.

Other gridiron stars to receive awards were David Handshoe, another eighth grader, who was named Most Valuable Player last season. Greg Fuch, 7th grade, outstanding back; Clarence Piazza, 7th grade, outstanding lineman; Steve Longo, 7th grade, "Mister Hustle"; and Joey Cure, 6th grade, Most Improved.

Tommy Longo, 8th grade, was named outstanding offensive player on the junior high basketball team. Outstanding defensive player on that squad was Scott Vogt. The elementary basketball team had as outstanding offensive player, Anthony Salmique, 6th grade, and as outstanding defensive player, Richard Flanders, another sixth grader.

St. Clare's award-winning Precision Group, which has performed at sports events and parades on the Gulf Coast for the past seven years, this year gave its award for outstanding service to Kenny Fayard, a seventh grader, who also has participated in all other team sports.

Winners of events in St. Clare's Intra-mural Field Day, which took place on March 11th, received their awards Wednesday night. In addition, three special Field Day awards were presented at the banquet. Overall high-point scorers in the intra-mural field events were St. Clare's sixth grade. Recipients of the trophy for the best original song, dance, and cheer, a segment of Field Day in which there is great competition among the classes, went to the eighth grade for their amusing parody of teenagers of the '40s and '50s. The eighth grade also received the Best of Field Day trophy for tallying the most points in both field events and song, dance and cheer competition.

Each year, scholastic awards are presented to students who participate in at least two team sports and also have maintained the highest scholastic average in his or her grade. This year scholastic awards went to Barbara Bostick, 8th grade; Valerie Young, 7th grade; Jeff Hansell, 6th grade; and Mike Maggio, 5th grade. An unscheduled part of the evening's program was the presentation by the coaches of The Most Flamboyant Fan award to Sister M. Ambrose, director of the athletic program.

Bay Policemen

Complete Training Course

Four members of the Bay St. Louis police and fire departments have recently completed a 40-hour training course in Explosive Ordnance and Hazardous Devices, held in Gulfport under the auspices of the state Law Enforcement Assistance Division.

Bay police officers Emmitt Ellis and Harold Heine, and Asst. Fire Chief Edward Friloux and fireman Al Arnold received certificates of completion, qualifying the four men as members of the Coast E.O.D. team. There are only 25 members in the newly formed E.O.D. unit, which is a specialized hazardous duty unit available to coast-wide law enforcement agencies for cases involving explosive and hazardous devices.

Grocers Will Be Briefed On Food Stamp Program

The Food and Nutrition Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has scheduled a special grocer meeting on May 15 to explain the procedure for grocer participation in its new food stamp program to retail and wholesale food merchants.

It matures sooner than you think.

Take stock in America. New Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

In Hancock County, Mississippi, the food stamp program - which will aid low-income families in Hancock County - is scheduled to get underway June 21, 1972.

According to B. Turkla, the Food and Nutrition Service's food stamp program representative at Hattiesburg, Mississippi, a meeting will be held on the following schedule: Monday, May 15, 1972, in the Courtroom of the Hancock County Courthouse, at 1:30 p.m., Main Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Turkla said the meeting is designed to acquaint retail and wholesale grocers with the new food stamp program. "It is important," he said, "that all retail and wholesale food merchants in Hancock County attend the meeting to find out how they can apply for participation in the food stamp program, the retailers' responsibilities under the program, and how the program benefits the individual grocer and the entire community." At the meeting, representatives of the Food and Nutrition Service will fully explain the program.

"We've found through experience in other areas that too often many grocers wait until after the program gets underway to ask for authorization," Turkla noted. "As a result, they lose several food sales, and sometimes permanent customers because they were not ready to accept coupons on the first day of the program."

Authorization of food merchants - both the retail and wholesale - is handled by the Food and Nutrition Service. Retail grocers must be authorized before they can accept food coupons from participating families. Without an authorization card and number, a grocer cannot redeem the coupons for cash through either a bank or an authorized wholesaler.

The food stamp program in Mississippi is administered jointly by the Food and Nutrition Service and the Hancock County Department of Public Welfare. The Mississippi State Department of Public Welfare is responsible for interviews and certification of needy families.

Under the food stamp program, certified families exchange the amount of money they have been spending on food each month for USDA food coupons. Depending upon the size of their family and other factors, they then receive an additional amount of coupons free of charge to help them buy more food.

The coupons - about the size of a dollar bill - are spent like cash for any American-produced food for human consumption at authorized retail stores. Alcoholic beverages, tobacco, imported meats, and certain other imported foods cannot be bought with USDA food coupons.

The amount of money eligible families are required to swap for food coupons is related to the amount they could normally be expected to spend for foods included in the food stamp program. Then they are issued an additional amount to permit them to buy more, and better, foods.

"In this way," Turkla pointed out, "families use their USDA food coupons to increase their food purchases - not as a substitute for their usual food expenditures."

Food coupons will be issued only to families determined by the Mississippi State Department of Public Welfare to be in need of food assistance.

Eligible families include those receiving public assistance, such as persons with dependent children, the aged, the disabled, and the blind. The unemployed, or those with limited income such as retired persons living on small pensions or social security benefits, may also be certified to receive USDA food coupons.

The food stamp program - one of two - food for needy family programs administered by the Food and Nutrition Service in cooperation with state welfare agencies - is designed to allow low-income and welfare-aided families buy more and better food for a varied, more nutritious diet with the convenience of normal shopping practices.

In Hancock County, where the commodity program has been in operation, the food stamp program replaces USDA's commodity distribution program.
